Harnessing Nature, Enriching Lives

On the Eastern Cape (Tairawhiti) of New Zealand, in one of the very first places in the world to see the new dawn each day, is Rua Bioscience. Mangaoporo, our site in Ruatorea, is home to intergenerational plant knowledge and cannabis R&D. It is from here that Rua focuses on producing next generation cannabis varieties. Our breeding programme focuses on the characterisation of illicit varieties and the development of superior and unique varieties that are grown at scale with partners for global distribution.

Te Tairawhiti is at the heart of Rua Bioscience

We have a deep connection to this region and its people. Te Tairawhiti has a significant percentage of indigenous Maori and experiences high poverty and low employment rates. Central to our kaupapa (purpose) is the creation of shared health, economic and social value for our community.

For this reason, we have created the Impact Programme to support people in Te Tairawhiti. The Impact Programme funds scholarships for local students, facilitates and funds industry exposure trips and internships and enables Te Tairawhiti residents access to funded medicinal cannabis products through our Compassionate Access Scheme.

As at January 2025, Rua has...

Awarded 53 scholarships to local rangitahi (youth), totaling $80,150.

Covered the cost of medicinal cannabis products for 52 patients per month in the Tairawhiti region.
